New threat search Threat search examples
Search for potential threats on your devices. You can search for file names, SHA-256 file hashes, IP addresses, domains or command lines.
Searches find PE files (like applications) with uncertain or bad reputation and network destinations they've connected to.
Searches also find activity by admin tools, which can be used maliciously.

Enter one or more file names, SHA-256 file hashes, IP addresses, domains or command lines.
